Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. Claims 1-84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Klingler et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,404,316).

As to claim 20, Klingler teaches a processing system for collecting a time based stream of information to generate a presentation comprising:

(i) means for communicating with an information source having a time based stream of information (col. 2 lines 51-65);

(ii) means for presenting capture information from the time based stream of information on a portion of the display device, wherein the capture information is acquired in a capture mode (capture, col. 4 lines 59-62; a selected clip can be cut and pasted with its time line and other information of that clip, col. 2 lines 42-65; col. 3 lines 45-49; col. 7 lines 10-14; Edit, col. 10 lines 24-43, and figs. 3-5, 6, and 8-9);

(iii) means for presenting process information for constructing the presentation on the display device (col. 4 lines 62-68, Edit, col. 10 lines 24-43); and

(iv) means for presenting at least one enabled control element (enable, col. 4 lines 59-67).

As to claim 21, Klingler teaches the system further including a means for capturing the time based stream of information from the information source (col. 5 lines 10-15 and figs. 3-5).

As to claim 22, Klingler teaches the system of claim 21, wherein the means for capturing is by executing an interrupt procedure (Edit, col. 10 lines 24-52).

As to claim 23, Klingler teaches the system of claim 22 wherein the interrupt procedure iterates at the same or substantially the same rate as the transfer rate of the time based stream of information from the information source because Klingler's system contains "Set Duration" (col. 10 line 64-68) to provide playback features with different speed (col. 11 lines 1-4).

As to claim 24, Klingler teaches the system of claim 20, wherein at least one of the enabled control elements is to edit the information (edit, col. 10 lines 24-52).

As to claim 25, Klingler teaches the system of claim 20, wherein at least one of the enabled control elements is to perform side operations (col. 3 lines 55-59).

As to claim 26, Klingler teaches the system of claim 20, further including a means for presenting an edit output on the same portion of the display for presenting the capture information (movie, col. 53-63).

As to claim 27, Klingler teaches the system of claim 20, wherein the presenting of capture information is automatic in response to the communicating with the information source (automatically created, col. 5 lines 46-63).

Art Unit: 2174

As to claims 1-6 and 9-10, these are method claims of system claims 10-27. Note the rejections of claims 20-27 above respectively.

As to claim 7, it is individually similar in scope to claim 5; therefore, rejected under similar rationale.

As to claims 11-19, these are system claims of method claims 1-7 and 9-10. Note the rejections of claims 1-7 and 9-10 above respectively.

As to claim 8, this is a method claim of system claim 17. Note the rejection of claim 17 above.

As to claims 28-33 and 35-36, these are program product claims of system claims 20-27. Note the rejections of claims 20-27 above respectively.

As to claim 34, it is a program product claim of system claim 23, and it is individually similar in scope to claim 23; therefore, rejected under similar rationale.

As to claim 37, this is a method claim of system claim 20. Note the rejection of claim 20 above.

As to claim 38, this is a method claim of system claim 27. Note the rejection of claim 27 above.

As to claim 39, Klingler teaches the method of claim 37, wherein the detecting is by receiving a signal from the information source through a capture port on the processing system, and wherein the automatically presenting comprises opening a window on the display device (process information and scene information, col. 3 lines 26-36 and figs. 3-4, 7, 9, and 10-11).

As to claims 40 and 41, these are method claims of system claims 21 and 23. Note the rejections of claims 21 and 23 above.

Art Unit: 2174

As to claim 42, Klingler teaches a processing system for generating a presentation of a time based stream of information, the system comprising:

A) a capture port for acquiring the time based stream of information (Editing environment and Time line view, col. 2 lines 42-67, col. 3 lines 1-49, figs. 3-5);

B) a display device (figs. 3-4); and

C) a processor coupled to the capture port and to the display device, the processor configured to:

- i) detect an information source having a time based stream of information in communication with the processing system (col. 3 lines 37-49 and figs. 8-10), and
- ii) automatically present capture information from the time based stream of information on a display in response to detecting, wherein the capture information is acquired in a capture mode (automatically created, col. 5 lines 46-63, and capture, col. 4 lines 59-62; a selected clip can be cut and pasted with its time line and other information of that clip, col. 2 lines 42-65, col. 3 lines 45-49, col. 7 lines 10-14).

As to claims 43-44, they are system claims of method claims 38-39. Note the rejections of claims 38-39 above respectively.

As to claim 44, Klingler teaches the system of claim 42, wherein the detecting is by receiving a signal from the information source through a capture port on the processing system, and.

As to claim 45, it is individually similar in scope to claim 21; therefore, rejected under similar rationale.

Art Unit: 2174

As to claim 46, this is a system claim of method claim 41. Note the rejection of claim 41 above.

As to claims 47-51, these are system claims of method claims 37-41. Note the rejections of claims 37-41 respectively for capturing the time based stream of information from the information source.

As to claims 52-56, these are program product claims of system claims 47-51. Note the rejections of claims 47-51 above respectively.

As to claim 57, this is a method claim of system claim 42. Note the rejection of claim 42 above, and Klingler also teaches (C) presenting an edit output on the viewing portion of the display during an edit mode (figs. 9-11).

As to claims 58, this is a method claim of system claim 51. Note the rejection of claim 51 above.

As to claim 59, this is a method claim of program product claim 32. Note the rejection of claim 32 above.

As to claim 60, this is a method claim of system claim 25. Note the rejection of claim 25 above.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed in Amendment A have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argued the following:

Klingler does not disclose capture information from the time based stream of information, wherein the capture information is acquired in a capture mode.

The Examiner disagrees for the following reasons:

Klingler clearly teaches how to capture information by copying/cutting and pasting a selected clip with its time line and other information for editing in a different display (col. 4 lines 59-62, col. 2 lines 42-65, col. 3 lines 45-49, col. 7 lines 10-14; Edit, col. 10 lines 24-43, and figs. 3-5, 6, and 8-9).
